Weekly Update October 30, 2019

Important Dates: ColettaScope! Saturday, November 9

ColettaScope

I have heard from about 12 families for the 'extra' tickets that you might need for any siblings living with you who might also be attending ColettaScope. An order form was sent home last week. I need them back by this Friday, November 1. Next week I will send tickets home for you and your family members based on the form that you need to return.

There will be a Respite Room available at ColettaScope as well. Whenever possible, we would of course like to have your children be with you for as much of the evening as possible. However, if they need a break, they are welcomed to go to the Respite Room. There will be snacks and beverages available for them in the Respite Room. The activities in that room will be supervised by our faithful Best Buddies volunteers.

Katherine (Liliana's mom) will be sending out a Sign-up Genius so you'll have an opportunity to contribute to the snacks for the students. My recommendation is to keep it simple.

Arrivals, Departures and Appointments

There seems to be some confusion on the start time for our school. Ideally, the buses and parent drop off happens between 7:25-7:40. At 7:45 the students are brought in to start their day. Students arriving after 7:45 are considered tardy. Some families may have been under the impression that school starts at 8:00. This is not true. Our school day starts at 7:45. To avoid receiving any tardy notices, please make sure that your child is at school ready to go by 7:45. Ms Traci and Ms Sarah are always ready to receive students at 7:25.

News from St. Sebs

There was no church Wednesday morning. Instead, we will have Mass on Friday as we help St. Sebastian School to celebrate All Saints Day.

Also, St. Sebastian School will be visited by an Accreditation Team (much like what we experienced last Spring) Please be aware of that next week Wednesday and Thursday. See the on-line version of the St. Sebastian Newsletter for details.

Milwaukee Lutheran H.S.

We have had several students from St. Coletta go on to Milwaukee Lutheran H.S after they have left our school. We are continuing to develop a common bond with MLHS. If you're interested, this is an event that they are hosting. Unfortunately, it is the same time that we are setting up for our own event, 'ColettaScope'. It is however during the day so some of you may be able to attend.
